A Toast to Port of Leonardtown Winery

On May 21st, several hundred visitors came out to toast the opening of the new Port of Leonardtown Winery. This project was years in the making, going back to the vision of then President of the Board of County Commissioners, Tommy McKay, working with Mayor J. Harry Norris, to create a winery facility that would offer a local market for farmers who, ten years ago, took the tobacco buyout to grow grapes and preserve their farmland. For the Town, the opportunity to reuse an old State Highway site along McIntosh Run as a huge tourism draw was a winning proposition. For all St. Mary's County residents, the project offers an economic development and tourism avenue that has not been available in St. Mary's until now.

In the late 1990's this property was slated to be sold on the State's excess property list. The Mayor worked with State and local officials to purchase the property for a mere $14,365 based on the original 1930 cost of the land. The Comptroller of Maryland at the time was Robert L. (Bobby) Swann. "Mr. Swann played a key role in making sure this property was able to be transferred to the Town, who would have an incentive to clean up the property and utilize it to its full potential for its residents," comments the Mayor.

The Port of Leonardtown Winery was on its way to becoming a reality once Commissioner McKay gained the support of the Board of County Commissioners, pledging $500,000 for the construction of the Winery and the Town of Leonardtown pledged the use of the building and construction oversight of the project. Later, the current Board of County Commissioners continued their support of the project and joined the Town to each pledge an additional $35,000, together with grants from the Maryland Agricultural & Resource-Based Industry Development Corporation (MARBIDCO), The Southern Maryland Agricultural Development Commission and the Southern Maryland Heritage Area Consortium to complete the facility for operation.

In addition to the Winery, the Town is in the process of developing the surrounding land into a passive public park. The Port of Leonardtown Park will help connect a 58-acre FIDS (Forrest Interior Dwelling Species) habitat currently owned by the Town. This magnificent area is a sanctuary for many birds, especially Baltimore Orioles, wild turkeys and Bald Eagles. Through funding from a Department of Natural Resources Parks and Playground grant, and matching funds by the Commissioners of Leonardtown, visitors can launch a canoe or kayak into McIntosh Run and paddle their way through

Mayor's Message

A major benefit of living in a small town is the hospitality and volunteerism that comes with that. But sometimes, out of the blue, I am blown away by the generosity of those who live or work in our small town. This is evidenced by the recent cleanup effort at Leonardtown Wharf.

On Saturday, August 7th, the Town will host several Oyster Buy Boats at the Leonardtown Wharf. A few of these boats docked at the Wharf last year and were quite a sight to see. There was some concern, however, about remaining debris underwater in front of the Wharf Park. A group of local volunteers and members of the Aviation Survival Training Center, Naval Air Station Patuxent River, spearheaded by local resident Tim Jeffas, volunteered to perform a dive in Breton Bay and document any obstacles they might encounter. They performed this survey on June 12th, removed many items and discovered several other larger items.

Using this information, the Town then worked with St. Mary's County Recreation and Parks staff to hire a crew to come in with the proper equipment to remove the located items. St. Mary's County receives funding from the Department of Natural Resources annually for removal of debris from the waterways. A big thank you to David Guyther, Recreation and Parks Park Manager, Tim Beckwith and a team from Randy's Pier and Seawall for a job well done.

Partnerships like these are vitally important to continuing to provide services to our residents while keeping our taxes low. The Town Council and I appreciate the efforts of everyone involved in this undertaking and look forward to the Buy Boats in August.

LBA to Establish Marketing Plan

The Leonardtown Business Association recently sponsored a marketing survey in an effort to improve the benefits and services to LBA members and other Town businesses.

While the survey indicates the vast majority was very satisfied or satisfied with the LBA and its benefits, the LBA would like to create a brand experience for the people who make Leonardtown, Maryland a destination of choice for shopping, dining, and family fun. Marketing efforts will be centered on raising the awareness of LBA businesses and the events that support those businesses.

65% of those completing the survey would like to see marketing dollars to be spent toward recruiting or business development efforts. Close seconds were streetscape initiatives including banners, parking signage, welcoming information, and branding or image building. The top five events that were considered valuable to business were Christmas on the Square, First Fridays, Earth Day, Beach Party, and Concerts/Downtown Tunes.

As a result of the survey, the LBA has established several goals. The first goal is to create marketing support materials that will assist the LBA in its efforts to increase membership and fulfill member benefits, including a mass-distribution e-newsletter and welcome kit for new members and businesses.

The second goal would create a marketing strategy for the summer of 2010. Work on this goal has already begun with promotional opportunities submitted for publication in the July issue of Maryland Life magazine.

The third goal is to create a comprehensive brand identity and event strategy for Leonardtown that integrates with the Town of Leonardtown, Economic Development, Tourism, and LBA initiatives. This would entail messaging and visual identity, such as developing a slogan, logo, and advertising, and an event strategy and marketing tool.

Visit the LBA website at www.thelba.org to view the entire survey and find out more about the Leonardtown Business Association.

Town Deputy, Cpl. Peg Smolarsky Advises "Lock Your Vehicle"

Thieves love to target unlocked vehicles. To deter would-be thieves, please be sure to lock your vehicles both at home and out-and-about. Remember to remove all valuable items and do not store them in your vehicle. Big favorites of burglars include valuable electronics such as cameras, MP-3 players, GPS's and radios. Any suspicious activity or persons seen should be reported through the Sheriff's Office non-emergency number at 301-475-8008. If you observe a crime in progress, call 9-1-1.

Water Meter Update

Over the last several months, Town staff has worked diligently toward completing the installation of new residential water meters. At this time, the majority of the meters have been installed. We will not have full quarter readings for the September billing cycle, but we will be analyzing the data for problem areas, such as possible leaks. If a concern or potential problem is detected, individual residents will be contacted by the Town. The December billing will include sample readings for a full quarter so that residents may begin to gauge their water usage. The new rate structure, based on actual water consumption, is still expected to be in place in March 2011, and will replace the current flat rate structure. Residents are encouraged to continue looking for ways to reduce their water usage and conserve this precious resource. Please monitor the Town website for additional information or call the Town Office with specific questions regarding this initiative.

When Wayne Davis generously donated the old bar from the former Pennies' building, the team refurbished the bar and added memorabilia signifying the many years of friendships and good times at Pennies imbedded in the surface.

While all Councilmembers were in full support of the Winery, a special thank you is due late Councilmember Bernard "Tub" Delahay for his unending dedication to preservation of the existing buildings on this parcel so that they would be available for this incredible project. In addition, special thanks are extended to former Councilmember Robert Combs for his work to proceed with the public park design and construction, and for his commitment to complete the landscaping in time for the grand opening. Mr. Combs also helped to coordinate the generous donation of plants and trees from the St. Mary's County Garden Club for the landscaping surrounding the Winery.

Now that the facility is complete, operation of the Winery has been turned over to the Southern Maryland Wine Growers Cooperative. The Cooperative presently consists of fifteen local grape growers. The Cooperative model is rare for a Winery, but provides an advantage for smaller vineyards that might not be able to bring wine to market on their own says Kevin Atticks, Executive Director of the Maryland Wineries Association, who has played an active role in the formation of the cooperative along with MARBIDCO.

The Wine Growers Cooperative is proud of the new wines and the Port of Leonardtown Winery. "This Winery is a result of much hard work and focus on quality" said Caroline Baldwin, President, Southern Maryland Wine Growers Cooperative. "Our members have sought out expert consultants and contributed many hours to produce our first production of wines and open the doors of the Port of Leonardtown Winery." These many hours have paid off as the 2010 Maryland Winemasters Choice Competition yielded Port of Leonardtown Winery's Autumn Frost Vidal Blanc 2009 the Best of Class Dessert wine award and the McIntosh Run 2009 apple wine the Best of Class Fruit wine award, along with two gold, three silver and a bronze medal for their delightful wines.

If you haven't yet visited this impressive new facility, the doors are open Wednesday through Sunday from noon until 6:00 PM. The Winery also participates in Leonardtown "First Fridays", staying open till 9:00 PM for those events. Many great things are yet to come at Port of Leonardtown Winery; so let's all join in the toast to Leonardtown's newest attraction!
